

Cole Zemke is the Global Parasitic Extraction and EM/IR Lead at GlobalFoundries, where he leads a multi-site team responsible for the development and verification of device and interconnect parasitic, and electromigration, solutions across all GlobalFoundries PDKs. Prior to joining GlobalFoundries in 2015, Cole led Parasitic Extraction PDK development at IBM, with a focus on developing solutions for new processes and technology nodes. Cole earned his

BSEE and MSEE from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 2002 and 2003, respectively.